Fall Issue 2018

Meet the staff of The Stinger:

My name is Grace Ellis and I am in 7th grade here at the Middle School. It is my first year here, and it's been really nice so far. I am in the Newspaper and Yearbook club, Power of the Pen, and participate in the Academic Challenge. I enjoy reading, and playing

Power of the Pen

Hi! It's Grace here to tell you about the Highland Middle School writing club: Power of the Pen! Power of the Pen is a writing club run by Mrs. Parker and Mr. Tipple. We meet every other Tuesday in Mrs. Parker's classroom. During the meetings, us members write short stories based on prompts given to us from Mrs. Parker. Our meetings are super fun and let us get our creativity flowing. In the spring, we will be attending a writing competition at another school. Remember to wish us luck!

Fall by Grace Ellis

Fall is finally here! After on and off cold, the weather is becoming colder and colder, the days getting shorter and shorter. Getting on the bus in the morning is a pain, the cold floods the morning air. Leaves are turning red, gold, orange and brown. The ground is littered with the first of the leaves to give up their places on the trees. While the rest of the world is changing, however, the world inside the school is staying the same. That means that we have to be inside, doing worksheets while we could be outside having fun. But, alas, we must continue with our strenuous learning. So, just go outside when you get home. Or if you have too much homework, then blame the teachers. That's probably the best you can do.

All About Me

By Amanda Cheng

Hi I am Amanda Cheng and I am happy to be your newspaper writer. I love math, and in fact the teacher is good too! I do Taekwondo and dance. I love dragons but, in real life I have a hamster named Twix. I love Pokemon and I like Yo Kai Watch too. I love the color green and I have a lot of Highland Pride! I am the oldest child and my younger sister is Emily. I am so excited to have you reading my newspaper articles.
